FURNACE FORD FARM, Dickerson, MD

Furnace Ford original farmhouse on over 5 acres waiting for the right person to renovate it back into a classic once again !! With an active spring (a stone springhouse) and year-round stream, sitting beside an almost 60 acre conservation zone (short drive to the Monocacy River) and right across from Monocacy Natural Reserve and Sugar Loaf Mountain, this location offers a secluded oasis and yet is less than a quarter mile off Buckeystown Pike/Dickerson Road with an easy 20 minute commute to Frederick. The 100 year old farmhouse is two stories with a large wide-open kitchen that has a wood burning stove in one corner and sliding glass doors that lead to a free standing porch overlooking the forested backyard. Also on the first floor are a dining room with fireplace, living room with fireplace, sunken artist studio with fireplace and loft, and a large utility room for a washer and dryer that has counters and a sink. Upstairs are three bedrooms and two baths swith steps leading to a third floor attic with a 5â€™ ceiling running the length of the house. Surrounded by Ag Reserve zoning, equestrian ranches this secluded (former artistâ€™s) get-away is only a mile drive to the Dickerson MARC station for a speedy trip to D.C.

Built in 1900
